I. Title

Policy on NIH Other Support Disclosure and Training

II. Policy

- A. This policy outlines the requirements for training and compliance with NIH's Other Support disclosure guidelines for all Senior/Key Personnel involved in NIH-funded research.

1. Training Requirement

- a. All Senior/Key Personnel must complete NIH-compliant training on Other Support disclosure requirements.

2. Disclosure Requirements

Personnel must disclose all active and pending research support, including:

- a. Financial and in-kind support
- b. Foreign and domestic affiliations
- c. Consulting agreements involving research
- d. High-value materials and resources
- e. Appointments at other institutions (paid or unpaid)

Disclosures must be made regardless of monetary value or institutional affiliation.

III. Definitions

Senior/Key Personnel: The PD/PI and other individuals who contribute to the scientific development or execution of a project in a substantive, measurable way, whether or not they receive salaries or compensation under the grant. Typically, these individuals have doctoral or other professional degrees, although individuals at the masters or baccalaureate level may be considered senior/key personnel if their involvement meets this definition. Consultants and those with a postdoctoral role also may be considered senior/key personnel if they meet this definition. Senior/key personnel must devote measurable effort to the project whether or not salaries or compensation are requested. "Zero percent" effort or "as needed" are not acceptable levels of involvement for those designated as Senior/Key Personnel.

Other support: Includes all resources made available to researcher or senior key personnel in support of and/or related to all of their research endeavors, regardless of whether or not they have monetary value and regardless of whether they are based at the institution the researcher identifies for the current grant. Other support does not include training awards, prizes, start-up support from the US based institution, or gifts.

(note: Gifts are resources provided where there is no expectation of anything (e.g., time, services, specific research activities, money, etc.) in return).
